Manasi Sachin Mhetre	Food Technology and Management	Kolhapur	Kolhapur is one of the oldest civilizations of the country. Kolhapur's cultural history is dated back to 17th Century. Situated at the banks of River Panchganga, Kolhapur is called as DAKSHIN KASHI (Kashi is a holy city in Northern India and Dakhin means South) for its spiritual history. India's pre independence history is in fact, history of kings and their kingdoms. Kolhapur is not different from the others, it has also seen and gone under the various regimes and since the emergence of the Marathas, the place was being ruled by the Bhonsle dynasty. Chhatrapati Shahu Maharaj was not among the male	Kolhapur has a has auto-ancillary, foundry and casting industrial establishments which act as supporting units for industries in Pune and Bangalore. The city is the home of Kolhapuri chappal, a hand-crafted buffalo leather slipper that is locally tanned using vegetable dyes. Kolhapuri slippers are sold on Mahadwar road. Other handicrafts include hand block printing of textiles, silver, bead and paste jewellery crafting, pottery, wood carving and lacquerware, brass sheet work and oxidised silver artwork, and lace and embroidery making. Kolhapur is also an industrial city with approximately 300	The region is known for the production of the famous hand-crafted and braided leather slippers called Kolhapuri chappal.	Kolhapur is a city on the banks of the Panchganga River in the southern part of the Indian state of Maharashtra. It is the administrative headquarter of the Kolhapur district. Kolhapur is known as 'Dakshin Kashi' or Kashi of the South because of its spiritual history and the antiquity of its shrine Mahalaxmi, better known as Ambabai. The region is known for the production of the famous hand-crafted and braided leather slippers called Kolhapuri chappal, which received the Geographical Indication designation in 2019. In Hindu mythology, Kolhapur is referred to as "Karvir."	The district is abundant in natural resources- water, soil, natural vegetation, animal wealth and minerals. As a result, Kolhapur is one of the most agriculturally advanced districts of not only Maharashtra but also India. Panchganga is a famous water-body in the Indian city of Kolhapur. It is a major river and a tributary of the River Krishna that flows through the borders of Kolhapur and is formed by the other 4 rivers. These rivers are known as Kasari, Kumbhi, Tulsi, and Bhogwati. It is a major tourist attraction and is visited by the tourists from different parts of the state on a huge scale.	Problem:- Improper roads Consequence:- Accidents, delays etc.	Proper maintenance of roads at regular intervals
